

AT LAST

At last we can understand now what He is offering. What He has always desired for his family. What has been there all along.

He is ahead of our time. For He has conquered time. It no longer matters. He desires to bring forward what has always been in His power. To bring to life again that which has been lost.

The birth of our ministry is trust. It is not an ordination. It is not rooted in structure. It is seeing uncertainty in front of us and not allowing its rule. His anointing will lead us. He knows the way.

His seed will not cheat us. It only needs our trust. To follow it through to the anointing of ease. It has all been made ready.

Our role is meant to be the mirror image of His love, His hand. We are His workmanship created for good works.

We now know what he knows. He knows intimately the work to be done. He moves in love, speaks in love, hopes for our response in love.

He speaks to our inner voice, we listen for direction. Not knowing -He knows. This completes us.

He is not working through tradition and geometric accuracy. He is offering instead the subtle movement of the spirit. The stream of the spirit is not rooted in structure. The spirit of God exhales and breathes at His measure. For the needs are differing. Structure cannot conform as only the loving plasticity of God has that movement, that flexible love.

The kingdom of God is inside us. His thoughts toward us are profound.

His measure is not inflexible and rigid. It is willing to dive into the darkest places and heal, deliver, save, give light.

We are perfect or mature as we accept our part. We have not grown into that place if all we do is invite others to the structure. We remain unsure and immature without a contribution. We are the balance between the realms for His use. Spirit to earth will complete His purposes.

Our unity of oneness is not heavy. It is lightness itself. It is love itself.

It has eliminated the yoke of heaviness. Man's order.

Man's rules.

It is entering the dark unafraid- and breaking it up. Now the light may enter. We have penetrated darkness with our unity. Darkness cannot exist in its light. We know what to do. Where to move next. We can interpret His next move as one body. Ignorance is dissolved. We listened to the light and have conquered by its brightness.

We have moved by divine motion not by a cascade of rules and rigor. He is more than rules and always has been. Yet we have missed that critical image of ourselves in Him as we adhere to the great officiation of church structure. First in Him and then in ourselves, now we can see the possibilities. Our true spiritual sight has been restored. To officiate our gathering suffocates the work of the spirit. Of rules is the design of the enemy. Of freedom is the genius of God. For He knows He alone is able. He alone heals, saves in perfect love. He is always the author. He is creating even our friendships for our work of ministry and the blessings within. If we walk in that love it will emanate to the lost.

In unity we can now whisper His presence to the lost and they can receive it without turning a page.

It is only the unrehearsed and spontaneous leading of love that will exact a change. This only is perfect. This only holds the greatest meaning. Here He will lead us and be perfect through us. It is our moment of wholeness and profound purpose. It has already been written.

The predetermined will never expose His love. For he has planned our involvement, and love would be no less.

Except that it would include us.

It is not love to exclude us.

It is here, as we apply our new identity in him to the world that we can now reflect the world we do not see.

Our intimate relationship with Him reveals to the unknown soul His love. A perfect balance is achieved between the realms working together in love. Confirming now the greater reality of choice.

We are in the place he has always desired. Our effort is light as we hold within us the anointing of the spirit. It is paid for- He will complete the job at hand.

Jesus has left us a legacy. He came to break ties with the old covenant and with the past. He has moved us from fact to feeling from law to spirit. From sitting to walking it out. Only the embrace of this movement will unlock its hinges and set us free.

To a higher existence where we are no longer concerned with mimicry. This is what carries a ponderous weight. That unspoken agreement has determined the fate of souls. What someone has done before us is irrelevant. We are inspired from the heart, from the very heart of God. To where we sit today, and most importantly- to whom we meet today. The lie has stolen the best He had for us.

We understand he would not cancel His own spirit, His own intentions with rules that could never compete with His greatness. His power.

We have been left the poor weak tea of submission and conformity.

Stripping our uniqueness, our vital walk of service, our crowns.

He has left open every door, every possibility. For He has not defined our work with officiation. To regulate our time together is to stifle the work of the spirit. He has given freedom in the magic of his spirit. Which is all the enemy seeks to sit upon through officiation.

Ours can be a new way of doing things, a heart full of simplicity. For He is the greatest example of simplicity.

To stray into authority is the polar.

Inspired from there as only heaven can give, now brought here and near.

The breath between heaven and earth is captured in our freedom.

Brought to earth from heaven in our laying down of rules. Not allowing formality to regulate, but to hear the beckoning of Him who knows all and loves all things.

We can catch that moment like a butterfly in a moment of beauty. When chaos will become order, darkness will become light, lost will become found. For His true order is not found in the authority of man. His order is within us, where the world may find Him simply. Through us who have been found. For we have heard His divine and perfect will and truth. Ministry now belongs to all His body. Which He has divided each of us a portion. As He now exists inside of every one us. As part of the very life He led among us. His intimate example belongs to us. Of His body, we are a part of Him. He is the head of his body, there is only peace here. There only can be peace. He is all we need. The chaos of authority and disunity is gone.

The darkness is gone. The true order of unity has won.

The wild one is gone. For at last, we have understood.
