

Why do we witness??

What's our purpose in spreading the gospel ?

WHY WE WITNESS.....

Lets explore this mighty important issue.....

Its all about hell. The place never intended for man. But some are choosing to go there. We have what they need.

You see, I have been there. I have personally felt the pains of the lost.

The Lord has taken me there on several occasions,, and has also let me experience their damnation.

Picture this, someone takes a baseball bat and with one swift blow knocks everything out of your head that was worth knowing.

The only thing left in your head is the knowledge of the gospel. The knowledge that you are in hell, separated from anything good., that God is the author of. The only other thing left in your head is that you have missed the boat, you have missed everything, you have missed life, you have made the mistake of your life...

That you have lost your very soul that that was capable of experiencing God, and and all His goodness, but you have chosen not to.

You lay there like a stone, totally powerless and under the authority of the devil completely, the one who does not love you or anyone.

This is the soul without God. Lifeless, like a cold rock, everything gone. And then there's the agony. The isolation is intense,the loneliness, you have been cast into an outer darkness, that is so real , so tangible.

All your senses are alive, more alive than ever, but all you can know is that you came here of your own will. There is no hope here, you have lost everything, and there is no getting it back..

----cut here----

THIS IS HELL---WHY WOULD YOU WANT TO GO THERE.....?

Hell was never intended for man. But some are choosing to go there.

You see, I have been there. I have personally felt the pains of the lost.

The Lord has taken me there on several occasions,, and has also let me experience their damnation.

Picture this, someone takes a baseball bat and with one swift blow knocks everything out of your head that was worth knowing.

The only thing left in your head is the knowledge of the gospel. The knowledge that you are in hell, separated from anything good., that God is the author of. The only other thing left in your head is that you have missed the boat, you have missed everything, you have missed life, you have made the mistake of your life...

That you have lost your very soul that that was capable of experiencing God, and and all His goodness, but you have chosen not to.

You lay there like a stone, totally powerless and under the authority of the devil completely, the one who does not love you or anyone.

This is the soul without God. Lifeless, like a cold rock, everything gone. And then there's the agony. The isolation is intense,the loneliness, you have been cast into an outer darkness, that is so real , so tangible.

All your senses are alive, more alive than ever, but all you can know is that you came here of your own will. There is no hope here, you have lost everything, and there is no getting it back..