

---

BOOK OVERVIEW

---

Galatians

Author: the Apostle Paul

Date: A.D. 55-56

Recipients: Various groups of Believers in the Roman province of Galatia

Summary: Paul makes a clear defense of the truth that “the just shall live by faith” and not by works. (Galatians 3:10) As a result, this book is sometimes referred to as the Magna Carta of the Church.

Key verses: Galatians 5:1

Key words: law (32 times), faith (21 times)

Notes:

Paul addresses the problem of Judaizers, those who expected Believers to live by the Mosaic law in addition to their life of faith in Jesus Christ, a view which is held by some religious sects even today.

Galatia, in Asia Minor, included Antioch of Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra, and Derbe, cities Paul visited during his first missionary journey. (Acts 13:14–14:21)

The Galatian people were originally Gauls who had migrated from western Europe.

The Greek word for “mark” referred to a brand that was used to indicate ownership of slaves or animals. (Galatians 6:17)

---

BOOK OVERVIEW

---

Galatians

Author: the Apostle Paul

Date: A.D. 55-56

Recipients: Various groups of Believers in the Roman province of Galatia

Summary: Paul makes a clear defense of the truth that “the just shall live by faith” and not by works. (Galatians 3:10) As a result, this book is sometimes referred to as the Magna Carta of the Church.

Key verses: Galatians 5:1

Key words: law (32 times), faith (21 times)

Notes:

Paul addresses the problem of Judaizers, those who expected Believers to live by the Mosaic law in addition to their life of faith in Jesus Christ, a view which is held by some religious sects even today.

Galatia, in Asia Minor, included Antioch of Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra, and Derbe, cities Paul visited during his first missionary journey. (Acts 13:14–14:21)

The Galatian people were originally Gauls who had migrated from western Europe.

The Greek word for “mark” referred to a brand that was used to indicate ownership of slaves or animals. (Galatians 6:17)

---

BOOK OVERVIEW

---

Galatians

Author: the Apostle Paul

Date: A.D. 55-56

Recipients: Various groups of Believers in the Roman province of Galatia

Summary: Paul makes a clear defense of the truth that “the just shall live by faith” and not by works. (Galatians 3:10) As a result, this book is sometimes referred to as the Magna Carta of the Church.

Key verses: Galatians 5:1

Key words: law (32 times), faith (21 times)

Notes:

Paul addresses the problem of Judaizers, those who expected Believers to live by the Mosaic law in addition to their life of faith in Jesus Christ, a view which is held by some religious sects even today.

Galatia, in Asia Minor, included Antioch of Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra, and Derbe, cities Paul visited during his first missionary journey. (Acts 13:14–14:21)

The Galatian people were originally Gauls who had migrated from western Europe.

The Greek word for “mark” referred to a brand that was used to indicate ownership of slaves or animals. (Galatians 6:17)