

The door is getting ready to close!

Don't wait for it Don't assume you have time.

...And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not alarmed, for this must take place, but the end is not yet...

Left Behind

What I say unto one I say

The Rapture

It was the stroke of midnight, I was suddenly awoken out of sleep I heard a loud noise it was so terrifying I was afraid to look

Anyway I gained Courage and went to the door, the sound got louder then I saw a bright light the light was so bright it almost blinded me it was sudden in a split of a second it was gone. I heard screaming and confusion .I walked out on the pavement only to see people running up and down the street, they seemed to be searching and asking questions.

As I was there in shock ,I saw my neighbour coming towards me , she was crying, she said she could not find her family, she got up after midnight and they were gone.

.And so was the case of everyone else for everyone seem to have Lost someone.

My heart started pounding, my knees started shaking this is a catastrophe I thought, where could all these people go. I ran inside turned on the television to see if I could find some answers Answers. it was on the news thousands of people have disappeared, planes could be seen Falling from the air, collisions were on every street the security forces were confused they didn't have answers.

I picked up my phone to call my aunt who was a devout Christian the phone rang without answer as I sat in front of the television thinking of every possible reason to have caused this catastrophe something popped into my mind, “ could this have been the rapture, the rapture of the church”.

I have always heard my aunt talking about the rapture, she said that Jesus would come suddenly and snatch away the church., those who are ready will be caught up to meet him in the air, she said it will be very sad for that will be left behind.

I began to cry for there and then I knew there was no hope left for me. I always wanted to give my life to the Lord, however I thought I would wait until I was old I often thought one should enjoy their life when their young and serve the Lord when they are old, what was I thinking now I am left behind.

My friends what plans do you have for your soul today what if the Lord should come? Where will your eternity be are you making preparation for your soul or are you saying you have enough time.

Time is not certain for any man for no one knows what the next minute or hour brings. I believe its time you begin to take stock of your soul for it is not a certainty you will live to see tomorrow. It's not promised,

The things of the world are appealing yes everyone wants to have something in life ,a fancy house, a fancy car ,wealth, fame, pleasure, but after achieving all these what's next

What if the lord should come? what if you should die? all these things will have no value to you anymore for you cannot take them with you.

The Lord have given us adequate time for our souls to be saved, he is longsuffering towards us, because he loves us and does not want our souls to be lost.

The devil will use everything in this world to distract us from serving the Lord, let us not be like the foolish virgins who thought they were well on their way but had no oil in their lamps, nor the world, in the era of Noah who warned for a 120 years but the people refused to repent

The coming of the lord is near don't allow the vanities of the world to cause you to lose your eternal destiny. Seek the lord repent of your sins seek baptism make provision for your eternal destiny. Remember your soul is in your hands.
