

Camping with Jesus

Camping with Jesus throughout your life's Journey is the most amazing feature of life for a believer. It literally becomes the most important aspect of your life as it becomes the pivot on which all other aspects of life evolve and emanate. Being with Jesus has made me realise my human nature and to realise that there is a supreme being who loves me, teaches me, shows me, helps me and lifts me beyond my ordinary senses and existence.

I have come to experience genuine unconditional love that supersedes human understanding and expectation, I have come to see how my failures and shortcomings never affect the love he has for me. When I scramble and struggle through life's tough times and when he seems so far away, I look through and realise he never left.

I was just too caught up in the things happening around me that I didn't see His unchanging love for me. In those moments, I know He feels my pain and my grief because he has experienced it before, I have come to see how He is able to succour me the same way He is being succoured by sitting at the right hand of the father having all things under his subjection. I have come to see how He understands my feelings, knowing that He sacrificed everything in life just to draw me close to him and have me by His side, thereby seeing that when I love a physical being deeply and sacrifice all I have for them I am only operating like my Father and Lover, Jesus. No matter the person's reaction it shouldn't change my love because it didn't change the Father's love for me.

Love is a command, friendship is a choice, the statement makes me understand why not everyone will love my Jesus and come to experience the fullness of life and the after-life in Him. When I look into His words to me I realise He called me friend, He chose me as His friend and yet He deeply loves me. What more can I ask of Him? Love so Amazing , Love so divine, Love so Pure. No relationship is the same that's why people will always misunderstand the kind of love my Jesus brings to me and to everyone who yearns. It is deep it is pure. People, through the eyes of the mundane see love through the drama, the chaos and the toxicity, the uncertainty the fears and the insecurity. But the love Jesus brings and gives to all who are willing is constant, undiluted, full of attention for the one he loves, always available and always at reach. The beauty with loving Jesus resonates more and more and is more astonishing knowing that He everyday promises to never leave me nor forsake me.

Camping with Jesus

Camping with Jesus throughout your life's Journey is the most amazing feature of life for a believer. It literally becomes the most important aspect of your life as it becomes the pivot on which all other aspects of life evolve and emanate. Being with Jesus has made me realise my human nature and to realise that there is a supreme being who loves me, teaches me, shows me, helps me and lifts me beyond my ordinary senses and existence.

I have come to experience genuine unconditional love that supersedes human understanding and expectation, I have come to see how my failures and shortcomings never affect the love he has for me. When I scramble and struggle through life's tough times and when he seems so far away, I look through and realise he never left.

I was just too caught up in the things happening around me that I didn't see His unchanging love for me. In those moments, I know He feels my pain and my grief because he has experienced it before, I have come to see how He is able to succour me the same way He is being succoured by sitting at the right hand of the father having all things under his subjection. I have come to see how He understands my feelings, knowing that He sacrificed everything in life just to draw me close to him and have me by His side, thereby seeing that when I love a physical being deeply and sacrifice all I have for them I am only operating like my Father and Lover, Jesus. No matter the person's reaction it shouldn't change my love because it didn't change the Father's love for me.

Love is a command, friendship is a choice, the statement makes me understand why not everyone will love my Jesus and come to experience the fullness of life and the after-life in Him. When I look into His words to me I realise He called me friend, He chose me as His friend and yet He deeply loves me. What more can I ask of Him? Love so Amazing , Love so divine, Love so Pure. No relationship is the same that's why people will always misunderstand the kind of love my Jesus brings to me and to everyone who yearns. It is deep it is pure. People, through the eyes of the mundane see love through the drama, the chaos and the toxicity, the uncertainty the fears and the insecurity. But the love Jesus brings and gives to all who are willing is constant, undiluted, full of attention for the one he loves, always available and always at reach. The beauty with loving Jesus resonates more and more and is more astonishing knowing that He everyday promises to never leave me nor forsake me.

His commandments to me do not determine whether He will love me or not.....

Truth is whenever He requires something of me it is for my own benefit, He demands it for me so I can become better in a certain aspect, His ultimate desire is for my good. If I fail to obey his commandment, He doesn't force it on me, He doesn't force my will. But I will know the consequences. Jesus loves me beyond my ability to express His love. Love so divine, love so pure. Such beauty of love transcends this earth, when it is time to depart the earth as all men will do, He takes me beyond here and keeps me in His Presence in practical heaven, He brings me into a kingdom where His love can be physically seen and felt with the beauty that He brings to his presence.

Where I no longer have to express love and desire based on earthly things or expressions because the earthly capacity has remained at the earth through a dead and decayed body, but I now feel love and express it through the Spirit He has deposited in me that has now come to dwell in His Presence and am now able to be with him and experience love forever (eternity)with everyone who accepted His gift of love while on earth.

*Love so divine,
love so pure.....*

I know someone reading this has never experienced love or has given love and has never had it return, the arms of love are still open for you, now it is your turn to receive this love. Yes, you will need to accept Him as yours, take Him personally and relate with Him on an intimate and personal note. But guess what, that's all you need. You need love, there is enough pain and stress in daily pursuit of life and it is damning to exist loveless. You need a place of warmth and certainty, security and safety for your secrets. You will have it all in Jesus.

Say this prayer and receive Him into your life.....

Lord Jesus, I am sorry for my sins and for turning down your love for me, please forgive me my sins and come into my life, as my Lord and Personal Saviour. I accept you Jesus, please give me grace to follow you and love you now and forever, Amen.

You prayed that prayer, live your life for Jesus and study His Word to experience that personal, deep and intimate relationship with Him.

God bless You.

His commandments to me do not determine whether He will love me or not.....

Truth is whenever He requires something of me it is for my own benefit, He demands it for me so I can become better in a certain aspect, His ultimate desire is for my good. If I fail to obey his commandment, He doesn't force it on me, He doesn't force my will. But I will know the consequences. Jesus loves me beyond my ability to express His love. Love so divine, love so pure. Such beauty of love transcends this earth, when it is time to depart the earth as all men will do, He takes me beyond here and keeps me in His Presence in practical heaven, He brings me into a kingdom where His love can be physically seen and felt with the beauty that He brings to his presence.

Where I no longer have to express love and desire based on earthly things or expressions because the earthly capacity has remained at the earth through a dead and decayed body, but I now feel love and express it through the Spirit He has deposited in me that has now come to dwell in His Presence and am now able to be with him and experience love forever (eternity)with everyone who accepted His gift of love while on earth.

*Love so divine,
love so pure.....*

I know someone reading this has never experienced love or has given love and has never had it return, the arms of love are still open for you, now it is your turn to receive this love. Yes, you will need to accept Him as yours, take Him personally and relate with Him on an intimate and personal note. But guess what, that's all you need. You need love, there is enough pain and stress in daily pursuit of life and it is damning to exist loveless. You need a place of warmth and certainty, security and safety for your secrets. You will have it all in Jesus.

Say this prayer and receive Him into your life.....

Lord Jesus, I am sorry for my sins and for turning down your love for me, please forgive me my sins and come into my life, as my Lord and Personal Saviour. I accept you Jesus, please give me grace to follow you and love you now and forever, Amen.

You prayed that prayer, live your life for Jesus and study His Word to experience that personal, deep and intimate relationship with Him.

God bless You.