 Heaven"
 "The turning of the walls upside down, and the wheels of time fall a third time"

This fault on the wheel has Steven Universe fault on the wheel and two other television shows, such as Adventure Time. Jesus Christ is in the lead, wearing a vibrant white robe and brown sandals that are made of leather. There are a handful of Jesus disciples, all wearing fine blue and green, and brown robes, and all of them are wearing fine jags where Jesus walked with his disciples. There is a flat stretch of beach and the sandy shores full of pebbles and minerals, and lots of fine grains and textures on the beach, layers of sand and sediment compiled upon layers of deeply embedded bones, skeletons of clabs and starfish. There are seashells and snail shells, and plenty of skeletons hidden. They are almost looking like an eye spy puzzle, like you have to find the right objects in order to find the right altar.

 I suppose they all saw him emerge from his hiding place behind the overhang and seaweed, and he had a meeting place to converse and converse with them about their plans and where they wanted to go and what they aspired to accomplish. In their conversation Jesus was standing in the middle of a circle of all the disciples and they were talking. Jesus had a calm expression on his face, almost as if he was predicting what was about to happen. He stood there quietly, not having a reaction to this next situation. There was another girl who was standing in the middle of this other cloud of people, part of a crowd. She was a Jesus fan girl, and she asked for something on her leg to be healed, and would Jesus please heal her? This was because Jesus had been going from door to door, and he was healing people and this took place on my porch. It was on my deck, and that means Jesus was visiting my house.
