RED DRAGON OF APOCALYPSE

The concept of Satan (antagonist, the accuser, the dragon, the devil) in religious and mythological ideas is used in the Abrahamic religions - Judaism, Christianity and Islam as the main enemy of God and the heavenly powers, which is the supreme embodiment of evil, and pushing people to the path of spiritual death. The interpreters without understanding the meaning of the events described by St. John, believe that in the Book of Revelation, Satan really exists and acts like a dragon and the devil - the leader of the dark angels in the battle with the Archangel Michael. As I showed in the article "SECRETS OF THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST" that the humanity goes through seven economic formations of community. Seraphs show John these terrifying formations, the totality of which he presents to us as the seven-headed devil. In the last, seventh formation of Armageddon, which began in 2008 and is mistaken as the economic crisis, humanity will destroy itself and after that on the first stage of the twelve stepped parallel universe, the divine trial of the embryos of the died angelic souls will start. Immediately after the beginning of formation of Armageddon in the sky, before the eyes of John, there will appear the seven-headed red blood-thirsty devil.

*"Then another surprise appeared in * heaven. It was a very big red animal like a snake. It had seven heads and 10 * horns, and there was a * crown on each head "(Rev.12-3).*

In fact, this means that the number of people during the seventh formation of Armageddon, that managed to win the Angel in their minds, will already present one third of the population of the earth, and they are a threat to the Christian world. As I showed no devil actually exists. John, understanding the meaning of economic formations that lead to the destruction of humanity, used the familiar Old Testament mythical creatures figuratively, in the form of characters to describe the events that the Seraphim showed him. Devil is the ultimate evil, something beyond human understanding. He can be everywhere, invisible, but always cunning, cruel and merciless. It is not material, it is fear and terror in the human mind and a opposes to the sense of good. And these two senses, in my opinion, attached by the Lord God to the human brain throughout his life, carry on a ruthless struggle among themselves to gain a total victory over the human mind.

Before going up to Calvary, Jesus withdrew to the wilderness for forty days to try and strengthen his spirit. There the divine nature of Jesus Christ for forty days with ease overcome the temptation of his human nature - hunger, pride and faith. After that he took upon himself the sins of the fallen angels and men, died for them and rose from the dead. As you can see, I have described how Jesus overcame the temptation without the help of Satan, which is not and never was.

Just at that time, nearly two thousand years ago, people did not have the slightest notion of the human brain, through which a man thinks, so they invented a symbol of Satan, whose meaning is only what I have described. This is a very important issue and that's why I will consider it from another point of view. If Satan is real, then where, in what world is he, where his lair? He can't be in a parallel universe, since it is only intended for luminous souls of the angels. He doesn't exist in our material world, although if he would, his place would be just in the material universe around us. I do not want to be rude, but you'll have to speak, among the humans there are some persons who are no better than Satan. Behold such people are going to destroy humanity, and perhaps all life on earth, along with the flora. I have deliberately said that Jesus took upon himself the sins of the fallen angels, as it would be pointless to take away the sins of the dead or living people who die and disappear.

At the first stage of a parallel universe, of course, the embryos may be angelic souls who on earth were the bodies of the fearful, unbelieving, abominable, murderers, sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and liars. But all these negative features were buried in their sinful material bodies and immortal souls embryos that have cooperated with the physical body and have not evolved to exist independently, have to experience the second death. They then return to the court of God's material world, to re-enter into the bodies of babies and with the help of a human body again try to create a soul, which develops and can exist independently. This chain of rebirth will last as long as it will be worthy to become an angel, or after the court of God to live in ordinary life for thousands of years before the next court of God. The human life span is small and lot of lives are needed for the soul together with the physical body as a result of many reincarnations could create a divine angelic soul that can exist independently and receive from the Lord Jesus Christ the crown of life and become a citizen of the parallel divine universe. At the time of formation of Armageddon true Christians should not bear the civil duties, because there will be people at power, in which the consciousness of Angels cooperate with human consciousness. In the minds of these people evil wins over good, human consciousness is the consciousness of an angel. These people are cruel enemies of our Lord Jesus Christ, because the laws issued by them, too will be directed against God and the Church, and whoever obeys them even with reluctance, he would be as an accomplice and will be rejected by God.
