

SOME LESSONS I'VE LEARNED RECENTLY

After being ill for over 3 month and having gone through all kinds of trials and discouragement where I wanted to give up, Jesus made it clear to me that He does not give up on you! He keeps encouraging you to be strong in your faith and to keep keeping on no matter what the circumstances and to trust Him and to lean on Him to help you through each day.

“Trust in the Lord with All thine heart and Lean Not unto thine own understanding.” “In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths.”
Proverbs 3:5, 6

I have learned that God's Word is true and that it's the only thing you can depend on for help with all things. That you have to wait on God and trust that He knows what He's doing in your life because chances are He won't do anything if you don't cooperate with Him. He will patiently wait until you come around to His way of thinking, which is what the Word of God says, and not our opinion of how God should do things.

You can cry and complain about how terrible the symptoms are but that won't Move God. In fact, He doesn't like it at all when you complain about how bad it is to everyone. That won't get you anywhere with Him and if you continue in it, you just might be more and more convinced that the devil is right and you can't trust God or His promises. And you will maybe give up and try desperately to find the answers yourself, and think that you have to do it all by yourself, and that's simply not true!

We are supposed to do what we can but we are not to overly be in strife and lose our peace when seeking the answers.

I have learned that He has the answers and He wants us to come to Him and ask for help and wait patiently, expectantly and confidently for Him to move in our life and He wants us to trust Him with our life.

He made us and He knows how best to take care of us and shape us into what He wants us to be so we will be ready for Eternity someday.

I did a lot of complaining to my friends and crying before God and He always brought me back around to trusting Him and reading His Word and believing what it says; and not the negative, fearful, troublesome words I had in my mind. That never works! The only thing that works is believing and confessing what God says about all things, including healing, and just staying rooted and grounded in that and not giving up, and confessing all the negative things that the devil floods into our mind to try to tempt us to give up. We have to renew our mind in the Word of God continually.
Ephesians 3:23, 24

We need to say positive, uplifting things that line up with the Holy Bible. Then we will overcome all things in our life.

At last, I'm no longer doubting God's promises but saying positive things about what He is doing for me and being thankful for what He's done for me by dying on the Cross for me and loving me more than I can imagine. And being thankful that my healing is on it's way...right on time! In God's time, not mine.

I am trusting the Potter who made all things! It was put upon my heart, again, There is only ONE WAY...HIS WAY! If you don't follow Him and do it His Way, you will get the same lesson over and over until you finally get it, before you can go on to the next grade. You will keep going around the same mountain like the children of Israel did. He doesn't do this because He's not a tender, loving God but because He is a tender and loving God; and Hes' trying to help you grow up, and teach you to become more and more like Him. Now wouldn't you like to be like Jesus? I'm sure everyone would! Then we have to be willing to let Him mold us into His image.

In closing, He promises healing and I Believe that I have His healing!

Believing and applying God's Word will MOVE God: believing it, and confessing it, and watching what we say and do and continually working on making your conversation, conduct line up with the Word of God is the key for a joyful, victorious life, and of course, the promise of Heaven to look forward to.

I have found out the hard way, all else will fail except God's way, you need to know the right direction to go in which is, loving and obeying God and His Word and trusting in Him!

Jesus is your Everything! Your comforter, your guide, your counselor, your prayer partner through the Holy Spirit which He has given to us.

We need to concentrate on confessing positive things only: each day and put the best construction on everything! And to speak loving and caring words about ourselves and others.

Get up everyday and ask yourself, what can I do or say today to make someone else's day a little brighter that will give them hope and maybe help them feel better about THEIR situation because everyone is struggling in this life. No one has it worse than anyone else, even if it might look that way to us. No one is immune to problems and heartaches.

And be doing your part too which He enables you to do. He will give you the strength and courage that you need.
