

BE READY

Its barely over a week since I lost my younger brother to the cold hands of death. Sad and painful as it really is I got some lessons to share.

1. Life's tragedies may not come with a notice board before you.
2. Live each day ,most preciously as if it were your last day.
3. Make impact while you still have breath in your nostrils.

4. Robe yourself with the garment and perfume of genuine love.

5. Don't allow anyone in need and within your range of assistance leave your presence un-assisted and without the help needed.

6. Live with the spirit of God in you and the consciousness of His presence with every breath of your nostrils

7. Live with the consciousness of eternity and the reality of Heaven and hell

8. Pray without ceasing

9. Live with the consciousness that life is a battle - ground.

10. Never let sin and unrighteousness stand in your way of peace. I thank God for the impact my brother had while on earth, though it was brief and eventful at the young age of 15, I am convinced he is at the right hand of the Father in Heaven while remembering he re dedicated his life to God a day before his passing on and before he went to the hospital and the testimonies of Him from various quarters.

If you are still playing with your life, I urge you to amend your ways, make it right with God. What testimony and report will people have of you when you exit this wicked world. Most of the ten lessons above can't be accomplished without the spirit of God in you. Say this prayer as you re dedicate your life to God and make that decision to live a holy and impactful life.

Lord Jesus, I know am a sinner, forgive me my sins, I accept You into my life, set me free from sin and guilt, put Your Spirit in me and help me to live life for You as You please. I know You sacrificed for me, be my lord and saviour now and forever in Jesus name. Amen!

Congratulations on praying that prayer if you did from your heart and you meant it. Take the bible as your best book from now on, read it, study it until it changes you and keeps changing you. Forget not to pray according to His will in God's word even as you draw close to Him daily in prayer, worship, study and fellowship in Him through His word and Spirit. Share your testimonies with others and spread the good word of the Gospel. In other words be a servant of Christ. God bless you and remain ready for His coming again.

Stay blessed.
