Suffer me to come to Thee."

and so she was lost.

Pity my simplicity;

Athaliah who sought the babe Joash's life never repented

Look on me, a little child!

Praise the Lord!!!

the murderer David was forgiven, but the murderess

"Gentle Jesus, meek and mild,

She flew to her Christ—she's a sinner forgiven,—

It was peace: she can now kiss the rod;

She heard it; she felt that attraction of heaven,—

Oh, my mother, prepare thee to die.

All her world was a chaos of night!

The lost child—no last breath before

The Lord Jesus—

The Bible tells us about God's nature—

The builders. John 1:42: "He was a prophet also in his day, saying, That there shall come one after me, and I am not worthy to unloose the latchet of his shoes."
